

IT Equipment and Code of Conduct Policy

New employees are issued a laptop and standard peripherals within their first week of joining.

Equipment must be returned to the IT department upon resignation or termination. Any loss or damage to company equipment due to negligence may result in a deduction from the final settlement.

Employees are expected to maintain professionalism and respect in all workplace interactions. Harassment, discrimination, or any form of misconduct will not be tolerated and should be reported to HR immediately.